Turner Convention Issue

THE PAST: A HERITAGE — THE FUTURE: A CHALLENGE

Another Turner Convention is now a memory. With its passing, ONE HUNDRED YEARS of this annual gathering of our people in Oregon, for these many years at our historic Turner grounds, was completed.

The Convention program included outstanding messages by John Paul Pack, minister of our University Church in Seattle; thought-provoking Bible studies by Roger Carstensen of Phillips University; excellent devotionals by Dr. Guy J. Wright of N.C.C.; varied and inspirational messages by six of our Oregon ministers; an insight of the great need on the mission fields by our two missionaries, Hal Shorrock and Mel Byers; and a very impressive youth decision service at the close of the Friday evening session. Much more could be said of the convention but the final measure can only be determined by the impact made on each individual present.

Because this was our century gathering, our minds were naturally turned to the past. Now we must look ahead. The coming year will be one of the most important years in the life of our brotherhood in Oregon. Definite plans have been made to further the work of Christ and His Church during the months ahead. We have committed ourselves to do great things for Him—to succeed will require the best of each of us working together.

A state-wide visitation evangelism campaign under the leadership of Bayne Driskill of Texas will soon be under way to culminate in a month of intensive visitation during April, 1953. During that month more than 3000 persons will be added to our churches and at least a 10 per cent gain in membership will be registered. Our State Evangelism Committee (Harry Atkins, Dufur, chairman; Earl Downing, Ashland and Shelvy Anglemyer, Medford) has chosen Ross J. Griffeth, N.C.C. to head this campaign. You will be hearing more of the plans for this great work in future issues of The Oregon Christian.

Portland and the state of Oregon will host our International Convention of Disciples of Christ July 4-9, 1953. We all should feel honored that Oregon's largest city has been chosen as the next convention site. However, we must also recognize that the success of the convention rests with each church and each individual within the state. Plans for the coming year also include the establishment of new churches in the state.

So you see, the task ahead of us is not small. It is one requiring great Christian people who will pray together, work together and give of their means together. Together great things will be done for Christ and His Church in Oregon.

And when the victories are won—we who labored together will be greater because of our oneness.

NORTHWEST CHRISTIAN COLLEGE

—By Ross J. Griffeth

More applications for admission to Northwest Christian College had been completed by July 1, 1952 than at the same time during any previous year. This means that the facilities of our College will be used to the limit again and that the pressure for additional facilities will become greater each year.

At the June meeting of the N.C.C. Board of Trustees, the budget for the coming year was adopted. The total budget for current operating expenses will be a little more than one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars. This also means that the churches will need to equal or exceed their giving to the College as compared to any previous year in order that we may have an adequately trained ministry.

The Board of Trustees of N.C.C. also approved a plan for securing funds to erect a Library building. The total cost of the Library is estimated at $200,000.00. It is proposed that 200 units of $1000 each shall be secured from individuals and groups to meet this cost. Further information will be made available soon.

Because of the effective program of recruiting and training ministers in the Northwest, almost every congregation in this area now has a minister regularly serving each Lord's Day. Now we need some more new congregations to take care of our trained leadership and our increasing population.

Dormitories will be open for occupancy at N.C.C. on September 13, 1952. The period of Orientation and Registration will begin on Monday, September 15. All young people who plan to enter N.C.C. this fall should clear their applications for admission as soon as possible.

In the accompanying picture, Dr. John Trever, Director of the English Bible Department of the Christian Education Division of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., discusses with President Ross J. Griffeth the new Revised Standard Version of the Bible. They are looking at a copy of the New Testament in the Revised Standard Version. The whole Bible in this new version will be published September 30, 1952, when a nation-wide celebration will mark the launching of this new version.

Dr. Trever was speaker at the Honor Day services of Northwest Christian College held in the N.C.C. Chapel near the close of the Spring term.

Which Twin Has the Tony?

The Sunday School at our Liberty Church, where John Myers is minister, is growing by leaps and bounds. Four pair of twins have enrolled in the Children's department since Christmas. Kneeling, in front: Terry and Larry Orr, children of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Orr; Patty and Vicki Sue Maxwell, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maxwell; Gene and Jerry Bader, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bader; John and Carol Morris, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Morris, were not able to be present when the picture was taken.

OREGON CHRISTIAN WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP

—By Edna L. Burke

Officers for the Oregon Christian Women's Fellowship, elected at the Turner convention for 1952-53 are: President, Mrs. C.C. Smith, Portland; first vice president and Director of Study, Mrs. J. W. Jordan, Albany; second vice president and Director of Service, Mrs. Leighton Dashiell, Dallas; recorder, Mrs. Elton Benedict, Salem; treasurer, Mrs. Hugh Ping, Portland, spiritual life chairman, Mrs. Ralph Cook, Medford; district secretaries, district 1, Mrs. Gerald Wood, Portland; district 2, Mrs. Paul Holloway, Salem; district 3, Mrs. V. C. McCauley, Forest Grove; district 4, Mrs. Idella Osborn, Lebanon; district 5, Mrs. C.C. Roberts, Eugene; district 6, Mrs. Irene Bailey, Medford; district 7, Mrs. Vernon DeLong, La Grande; district 8, Mrs. Wm. Hart, Bend.

Women's day at Turner, Thursday June 26, began with a workshop at the Turner church. The four emphases of Christian Women's Fellowship in the long range program of the church were stressed. Mrs. Ralph Cook presented the goal, deepened devotional life; Mrs. Vernon DeLong, doubled membership; Miss Martha Goodrich, school of missions. Mrs. Dudley Strain and a group of women from the Salem First church presented the goal of doubled giving by means of a clever skit. Mrs. Stella Peck, guest from the national office, presented study materials.

Three retired missionaries participated in the afternoon program. Dr. E. R. Moon led in prayer, Mrs. Moon conducted the memorial service and Mrs. Elmer Boyer installed the officers. Hal Shorrock, missionary on furlough from Japan, was guest speaker.

Miss Donna Lee Plymale, a new candidate for the mission field whose home is in Lebanon, was introduced; former state officers were recognized.

The 5 o'clock Vesper service held in the Turner church was conducted by Mrs. Ralph Cook and Miss Beverly Lyman of the Medford church. An offering of $104.65 was taken for missionary work in Japan.

This year as a new feature, the women had a display table on which were placed clever table decorations, and various other things to make the study program more interesting and attractive. Groups contributing to this display were First Church, Salem, Tillamook, Silverton, Mallory Ave., Portland, Enterprise, Medford and Vernonia.

Mrs. Nettie Fishburn of Portland, a former state officer was in a car accident while travelling in the east and spent some time in a hospital. She has sufficiently recovered to be brought home. The best wishes and prayers of the women of Oregon are in her behalf.

Student Leader Accepts Call

William R. Terbeek, director of Christian House on the Oregon State College campus in Corvallis for the past three years left that post in June to become the minister of youth and education at the First Christian Church in North Hollywood, California, where Merle E. Fish, Jr., is minister.

Under Mr. Terbeek's leadership the program for students from Christian Churches on the O.S.C. campus was strengthened considerably. During this time, over 200 students have been served through the House program and through their participation in Church activities. Highlights for this period have included the sending of 10 delegates to the National Disciple Student Fellowship quadrennial conference at Des Moines, Iowa, during the Christmas vacation of 1949. Students have also attended the Ecclesia conferences since that time. Also, the student group raised the funds to bring Stephan Chemytich, a displaced person and Ukranian student, to Corvallis to live in Christian House and to continue his studies. He arrived in March, 1952, and has already contributed much to the life of the students.

Numerous improvements in the House itself, including the finishing of the basement for recreational purposes, and the remodeling of the upstairs rooms into a suitable apartment have been completed in these three years. Many minor changes have also improved the facilities for the use and nurture of the Christian Students at Oregon State.

At the monthly fellowship dinner of the church on June 9, a sliver pitcher was presented to the Terbeeks by Robert R. Adams, chairman of the board of the church. Preceding the gift were brief speeeches of appreciation by Orville Carroll for the students, Claude Bryant of the student commission, and Donald L. Helseth, minister of the church.

Mr. Terbeek has served as advisor to the Campus Religious Council, secretary and president of the Corvallis Ministerial Association, and treasurer of the Northwest Disciples Student Fellowship. He has also acted as assistant minister for the Christian Church in Corvallis. Mrs. Terbeek was active in the music of the church and was an officer in the Corvallis Council of Church Women.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Terbeek are graduates of the University of Southern California, and he received the bachelor of divinity degree from Disciples Divinity House at the University of Chicago. They have a twenty-one month old daughter, Nancy.

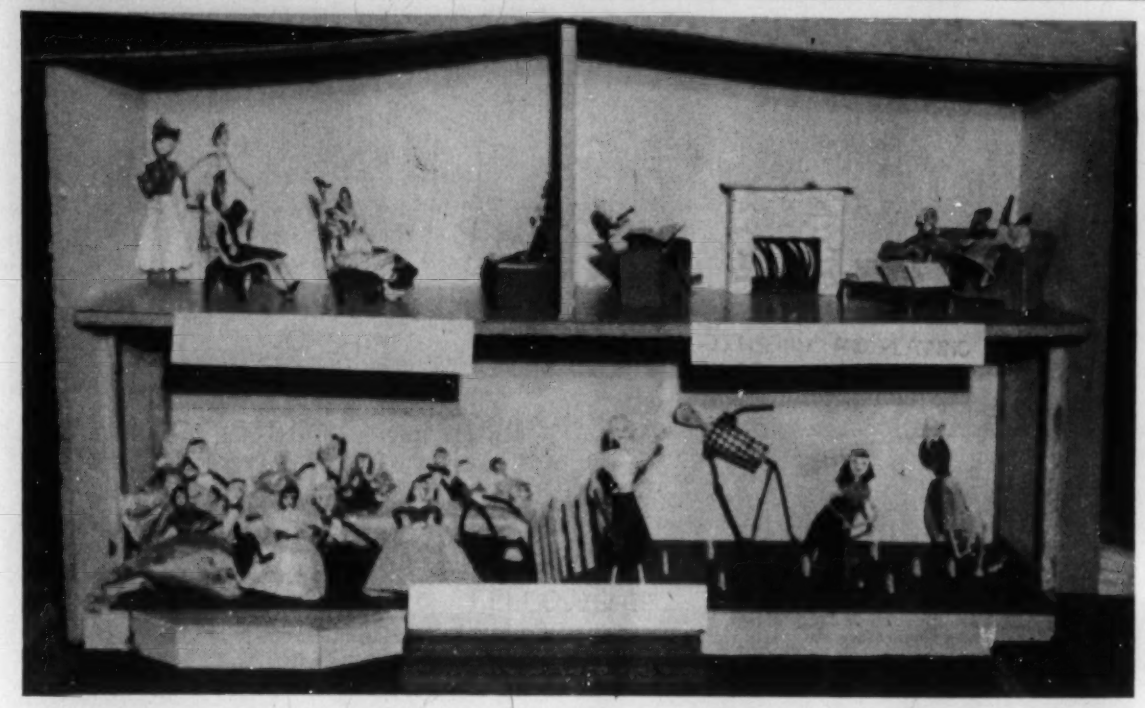
THE DALLES COURT STREET CHURCH OF CHRIST

The Dalles Court Street Church of Christ is pictured above. The sanctuary unit (with banquet room and kitchen in the basement) will be built whenever funds are available and will extend outward from the wooden portion of building shown at left.

The congregation moved into the new building in December of 1951. Colored movies and still pictures were taken at that time as the older members of the church led the classes from the old building into the new one. A boy Scout and Girl Scout carried the American and Christian flags, followed by the minister, Ray L. Aplet. The moving pictures have become a permanent part of the church library and may be shown at any time. The still pictures will be placed in an album for a permanent record of the event.

All departments have grown since moving into the new building and most children's classes have doubled.



The model shown above, prepared largely by the Eugene Christian House was on display at the recent Turner Convention and portrays the three main functions of the Houses—Worship, Counseling and Planning and Fellowship.

NEWS OF THE CHRISTIAN HOUSES

The Estes Park, Colorado, conference is the next big feature of Student Work for all Christian Church Students across the nation. The dates are August 24-29. This will be the second of the summer conferences of DSF (Disciples Student Fellowship), with Dr. Parker Rossman in charge of general arrangements. Last summer six Oregonians attended the first conference at Camp Hollister, Missouri, bringing home many new ideas for student work programs on our own campuses.

This time a special bus is being arranged to take the Washington and Oregon delegations, picking up students from Idaho en route. In addition to the delegations from the Christian Houses, at least three other Oregon campuses are expecting to send representatives: Pacific University, Eastern Oregon College of Education, and Southern Oregon College of Education. For particulars and details about the bus, write to Mrs. Clarence Elliott at the Eugene Christian House, 736 E. 16th. Churches with students in their congregations should be making arrangements now to help with the expenses which should be under one hundred dollars. There will be no summer conference next summer because of the Quadrennial during the Christmas holidays, 1953.

When church leaders know of students who will be attending Eugene or Corvallis schools this winter, they should let the Christian Houses have the names at once so that contacts can be made before students leave home. The same may be said of other students, too, inasmuch as it encourages students to find their way to the campus churches if some one knows beforehand of their arrival.

Some students are available for deputation teams to local churches this summer. If you would like to have a program on the Christian Houses, let them know.

Attendance Contest Helpful

The First Christian Church at Myrtle Creek, where Leo Horner is minister and our church at Florence, Bill Imhoff, minister, recently completed a successful Bible School attendance contest.

Both schools were averaging around 140 prior to the contest. It was agreed that the church having more than 185 two Sundays in succession would be the winner of a painting, "Christ at Dawn", by Sallaman.

Myrtle Creek won the contest with 264 in attendance to 189 for Florence. Both schools broke all-time records for Easter attendance (did not count in contest). The contest was announced three weeks in advance. Every teacher was to contact each class member either by card, telephone or in person. Circulars were sent to each member or prospective member, explaining the program. Teachers were briefed on the additional responsibilities to come with increased attendance. Awards were made those bringing new members to Bible School, to those who had perfect attendance during the contest, to the class having the largest attendance and to teachers and officers.

At the climax of the contest in Myrtle Creek, the Junior Department presented their Easter program one week late. This department, which had 89 present on the winning Sunday, with Mrs. Marion Howell as their superintendent, contributed much to the success of the contest. Harold Gilmore is superintendent of the entire Bible School.

A portion of the 267 children who were enrolled at the Newport Community D.V.B. S. held in June are shown above.

COMMUNITY D. V. B. S. HELD AT NEWPORT

The Newport Christian Church, Wesley Goucher minister, participated in the Community Daily Vacation Bible School which closed June 12 with an annual program in the Central Grade School there. Average attendance was 205, with 267 enrolled. An offering of $100.14 was received by the children with an additional $48.00 given at the closing program. All expenses were met, leaving a small balance to go toward next summer's Bible School.

GATES CHURCH RECEIVES $1000 FROM 90 AND 9

On April 27 the check for $1000.00 from the Millenium Minute Men of the Men's Ninety and Nine was presented to the Gates Christian Church. The building was dedicated on Easter Sunday and is now the nice home of a deserving congregation that is showing a steady growth under the leadership of their minister, Loren Swanson, of Northwest Christian College.

Mr. Ezra Blehm, State President, was the speaker of the morning and gave an inspiring message pointing out our responsibility as evangelists.

VISITATION EVANGELISM

Seven churches of the Salem area are planning simultaneous Comprehensive Evangelism Crusades, under the direction of Bayne Driskill of Texas, for the period begining July 1st and ending October 13th. The three Salem churches (Liberty, Court Street and First), Lebanon, Albany, Monmouth and Silverton had their set-up meetings with Mr. Driskill early in June and established goals nearing the 700 mark for additions to the Church on Sunday, October 12. The first step in the Crusade, building up the responsibility lists, begins immediately; cultivation visits begin August 1st. The intense period of visitation will begin on Sunday, October 5, when Mr. Driskill will give instruction to the hundreds of workers who will be working together in the Crusade, and will continue for the first four nights of the week following. This evangelistic effort will not hinder these churches from participating in the statewide Crusade planned now for April, 1953.

1952-53 CWFF POSTER

Pictured above is the Christian World Friendship Fund (CWFF) poster. It is now being displayed on youth bulletin boards throughout the state. Bearing the youth theme for 1952-3, it challenges youth to every Sunday giving through individual Christian stewardship.

"AS MUCH FOR OTHERS AS FOR OURSELVES" (The Golden Rule in giving) is the basis for 50% of CWFF supporting foreign missions. The other 50% is divided equally between home missions and Christian education. The causes depending on CWFF support are in keeping with the current mission themes of the church: "Home Missions and Human Rights" and "Africa." Study materials on these themes are found in PM PACK No. 6 and FELLOWSHIP annual.

SPECIFICALLY FOR REGULAR MISSION WORK, CWFF seeks $28,000 for your African missions in Congo and the Union of South Africa. This is more than one-fifth the amount sent by Christian churches through the UCMS for your African work. Migrants, Hazel Green Academy, Jarvis Christian College and Southern Christian Institute are CWFF home mission causes. Student work and field work in Religious Education will receive 25c of every CWFF $.

Oregon's CWFF goal is $750.00 and 20 giving groups by June 30, 1953. For complete details request a CWFF Packet from The CWFF Office. The UCMS, 222 S. Downey Ave., Ind'pls 7, Ind., or the State Office.

PLAN FOR FAMILY CAMP

The annual week-end Family Camp, sponsored by the Christian Education Commission of our Oregon Churches, will be held at White Branch Camp, August 15 to 17. White Branch Camp has been described as an ideal spot for such a family retreat, located on the McKenzie Highway about fifty miles from Eugene, and providing adequate and comfortable lodging for family groups. Lawrence Bixler, of Northwest Christian College, will serve as dean of the camp, and Charles Addleman will serve as director. Assisting on the faculty will be Ruth Towne, who has been serving as part-time director of Christian Education in the state; William Siefke, of Northwest Christian College; James Cornett, of the First Christian Church in Eugene; Marjorie Moshier, state chairman of Children's Work; and Russell Adams, member of the Adult Work Committee in the state.

The cost will be fifteen dollars per family, which includes six meals for each person, lodging and other camp costs, regardless of the size of the family. It is possible that a small fee may be charged each attendant for insurance, which will provide adequate protection for children and adults. Sessions for children and youth will be held separately during the morning sessions, but most of the activities will be planned for the family unit. Emphasis will be made upon three areas of family life: recreation, worship, and finance.

An advance registration of $5 per family should be mailed to Mr. Charles Addleman or to Mr. Lawrence Bixler not later than August 5 for those who intend to go. Registration will be limited to 30 families. This venture of the Christian Education Commission is the second of this nature, and provides a true laboratory for Christian family life.

Faith—Do We Have It?

A new system of financing our recent Turner Convention was inaugurated this year. Usually an offering has been taken at each evening service and at the closing afternoon session. This year it was decided to take but one offering for the week—at the closing session on Sunday afternoon. Each evening the offering was mentioned and a dedicatory prayer was offered looking ahead to the one great offering. Those who would not be at the convention on Sunday were urged to place their gifts in the Lord's Treasury boxes at each exit of the Tabernacle.

At least $1500.00 was needed to defray convention expenses and upkeep and repair on the grounds and buildings. There were those, including your editor, who felt that this amount could not be raised with but one offering. However, the total convention offering amounted to $1488.00. Faith—do we have it?

NORTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN HOME

Beaverton, Oregon

Miss Mary E. Phillips, Superintendent Ray C. Smith, Area Representative

June seems to be visiting month at the Home. Mrs. Roth and Miss Miller were in Amity for several days, Mrs. Goode and Mrs. Preston spent two weeks in Silverton, Mrs. Florence Jewett visited friends in Salem and Mrs. Lister is in Santa Clara, California. Mrs. Wirt of our staff is taking her vacation with her daughters in California. Mrs. Pierson is recovering nicely from surgery performed in the Jones Hospital in Hillsboro. Mrs. Fadden's daughter from McCammon, Idaho, recently visited her at the Home and brought two of Mrs. Fadden's great-great grandchildren with her. Other visitors from many states and churches have also been guests during June.

The garden and the lawn and flowers are all doing well under Mr. Thuma's guidance, with due appreciation for the fine planning and start given by Victor Yaun.

Mrs. Mary Hunter entered the Home May 23rd from Portland First Church. Her birthdate is May 17, 1870. All rooms in the new building are occupied and the furnishing fund for each has been pledged or supplied by individuals and church groups as memorial rooms. A list of those participating in this way will be published in the July "Visitor", as will also the complete list of "Front Line" churches.

Roseburg, Athena, Tillamook and Portland Kern Park have joined the "Front Line" ranks again and four Oregon churches are now in the "$500 and more" group: Portland First, Portland Mallory Ave., Eugene First and Salem First. Total offerings to the Home as of May 31 were higher than last year, but had not quite reached the 30 per cent increase needed to completely cover the larger family group.

Friends are reminded again of the constant need for fresh fruit and vegetables, eggs, poultry and meat as the season produces its bounty of good things. Superintendent Miss Phillips and Mrs. Mary Parker, board member, attended the International Convention in Chicago and president of the Board Kullowatz attended the Washington state convention in Yakima. Ray Smith also attended the Washington and Oregon conventions and arranged exhibits for the state conventions of Montana and Idaho where our Board members, Glen Seitz and B. W. Goff, were our representatives.

TURNER CONVENTION ACTIVITIES IN PICTURES

Familiar objects at Turner during the convention are the tents and trailers where many of those in attendance stay.

The goal of 2500 convention registrations was not achieved (less than 2,000 registered), but Ivan Correll, registrar, was busy when this picture was taken. Shown registering are C.F.(Pop) Swander, Vernonia; Aldis Webb, Tillamook; and Gilbert Stein, Salem.

The primary children shown were also a part of the Observation-Practice School. Mrs. Nellie Jones, Albany, was in charge of this group. Mrs. Bea Corum, Medford, was director of the School and Mrs. Marjory Moshier, Eugene, was supervisor.

There was time for relaxation and visiting during the convention. Shown enjoying "coffee time" after an evening session are Nola Neill, Gail Woodruff and Francis Hyland, seated. Leo Woodruff is standing, center, while Len Fishback is trying to be helpful by serving Mrs. Fishback. The gun on the table was later used by Francis to hunt a frog.

Eunice Royston, left, and Jack Naff, right, were the soloists with the choir of Eugene First Church which provided the special music on Wednesday evening of the convention. Maude Skaggs Woodyard, center, is the director. The Salem First and Portland First churches each sang one night during the convention, also.
